BATTLE OF LIFE.

Bear thee up bravely. Strong heart and true! Meet thy woes gravely. Strive with them too! Let them not win from thee Tears of regret. Such were a sin from thee. Hope for good yet!

Rouse then from drooping. Care-laden soul, Mournfuly stooping Neath grief's control. Far o'er the gloom that lies, Shrouding the earth. Light from eternal skies Show us thy worth.

Nerve thee yet stronger. Resolute mind! Let care no longer Heavily bind. Rise on thy eagle wings Gloriously free! Till from material things Pure thou shalt be.

Bear ye up bravley. Soul and mind too! Droop not so gravely Bold heart and true Clear rays of streaming light Shine through the gloom. God's love is beaming bright E'en round the tomb.

For the Sunday Bulletin.] RED RIBBON.

MADAME CHARLTON-EDHOLM. The temperance question has become the question of the hour. For the nonce all other questions are silenced, all other interests laid aside, all other thoughts hushed, and men and women are concentrating all the powers of thought and all the forces of action to lift from our fair land this burden of wee and sin and shame which is weighing as an incubus upon the nation's heart. Movement after movement has swept the country in waves of enthusiam and one by public sentiment. THE MACONS OF CAIRO AND VICINITY WILL popular opinion on this subject become, that the protest signed by Anderson was that the people are uprising in the grandeur sworn to by Anderson in his presence, of strong moral purpose, swayed by the intense earnestness of the issue, to save the nation's sons. To throw about the tempted mony was that he had signed a mild nervous system. The Red Ribbon movement is but an outgrowth of this sentiment, and has as its fundamental principle one of the fundamental principles of human nature-united sympathy. The old axiom coined at the time of our nation's need and peril-"In union is through with her husbond. She is prethere is strength" never had a more striking | pared to swear for Sherman's side of the illustration of its truth than is before the country to-day in the temperance work. down in the attempt to shield Sherman. In the reading room he can find light and comfort and books and honor, lifting him out of his despair, helping him to forget himself and the irresistable craving, in the magic of the books. ANDERSON'S REFUSAL TO TESTIFY. Washington, June 21.—The acction of Anderson in refusing to testify before the senate committee, and the fact that the s nate is not in session to act upon the matter of contempt, has completely blocked the work of that committee, and it has adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. Anderson's reason for refusing was the negative reply of the committee to his request to be attended by council. He based his provided a pleasant resort where the stranger, request on the fact that Stanley Matthews, the tempest tossed and the homeless can find who is a lawyer, was present to take care of his case. Anderson said he would be willing to testify if Matthews would go before the house committee. There is no doubt that nearly all the members of the Matthews committee are really pleased with youth whose restless heart demands pleas. THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF ST. JOSEPH ROBBED-NINETEEN THOUSAND, SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS CARRIED OFF-THE THEFT COMMITTED BOLDLY IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

[Special to the Republican.] St. Joseph, Mo., June 21 .- Our city has been all agog to-day over the robbery of the First National bank. The amount taken was $19,700. The manner of the robbery is not known. The money was missed about one o'clock p.m., while all the employes except the cashier, Mr. Joseph C. Hull, were absent. A depositor coming in with a large sum, and remarking to Mr. Hull that he should look out for the James boys, he thought it prudent that he should place the new deposit in the vault, and it was then he discovered the absence of the money, which was in three $5,000 packages and one of $4,700. Just when or how or by whom the money was taken are subjects of mere conjecture. Mr. Hull is one of the oldest and more experienced and trusted cashiers in the state, and is a large stockholder in the bank. The bank is strong, and will be in no way embarrassed. Its principal stockholders are men of wealth, on whom such a oss will make no impression.
